NSBL DEFAULT RULE TL.6

A maximum of 1 player may be absent from each team. Where only one team is one player short that team shall field 2 players against their opponents 3 players on one rink. All players shall play with 3 bowls each. The two teams N^os 1 & 2 shall bowl in the sequence 1-1-2, 1-1-2, 1-1-2, resulting in 9 bowls being delivered at the head end. The two skips shall then bowl as normal resulting in a total of 15 bowls played. In summary, whichever team has the mat the two leads each bowl their first bowl followed by the non-defaulting team's N^o2. They then repeat this sequence for each of their next two bowls followed by the skips with 3 bowls each. Shots will be scored in the normal way. The team with the player short shall incur no additional penalty as it is considered that playing 6 bowls against their opponents 9 bowls is a sufficient handicap in itself.

Where both teams are one player short both teams shall field 2 players on one rink with all players playing with 3 bowls each. Shots will be scored in the normal way and no penalties applied.

If 2 or more players are absent from one team or if one team is unable to commence play 30 minutes after the appointed start time, the club in default will be penalised by 10 shots and the club not in default will be awarded 10 shots. Additionally, the defaulting club will be penalised by the average number of points it has scored per match during the current season, and the club not in default will be awarded the average number of points it has scored per match during the current season. This calculation will be made by the Press Secretary every time the league tables are updated and published throughout the season following the default so that the number of points penalised and awarded is

If both clubs are 2 or more players short both clubs will be in default and be penalised as above.

NSBL ABANDONED MATCH RULE TL.4

Abandoned Matches : If a match is abandoned, the score will be taken if a minimum of 13 ends have been played by each Triple, and the score will be taken at the lowest number of ends played by all Triples. If a match is abandoned before the minimum number of ends have been played, the match re-arrangement provisions of Rule TL5 will apply.
